Flag question

Dear Jade,

I'm writing this mail in order to apologize to you for not attending the meeting. I ran about a lot of trouble when an unforeseen event occurred at my office.

I can understand the importance of the meeting and assure you that it will not happen in future. In case of any unforeseen events, I will make sure to inform you about my situation so that you can make the all possible effort to either cancel it or start off without me. At least it will ensure that you will not confront any embarrassing situation because of my sudden absence.

On knowing the highs of the event, I have realized that unfortunately I have missed some of the very important issues. I am trying to get more of the details from the people who have attended it and gain the best knowledge possible. Again I would like to assure you that my presence in the coming meetings and other important gatherings.

Lovingly,

Jay Smith.
